

CHICKS WIN IT

Final Game Carded for Thursday--Chattanooga Lookouts Come Friday--Chicks Beat Travelers Wednesday 3-2.

BY BOB PIQUE.

Dizzy Vance, the red-headed Chick right-hander, will make an effort to hurt the Chicks to another win over the Chattanooga Lookouts in the second and final game of the series Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock at Russell Field. The Chicks will be Rube Robinson, left-hander, who has proved himself a good pitcher this year, and if he is nominated the right-hander, may be substituted for Rube, but the Searcy southpaw is the best bet to start.

The Chattanooga Lookouts, the present last-entrants, come to Russell Field for three games, starting Friday and continuing through Sunday.

BIG BILL IN VICTORY.

Bill Thwaitt, Memphis' big right-hander, placed his massive frame between the Little Rock Travelers and victory at Russell Field Wednesday afternoon and emerged with the spoils by the score of 3 to 2. Only three hits were scored by the Travelers, and Thwaitt, and only his wildness kept him in trouble. Bill issued several bases during the game that forced the Chicks to pitch tighter ball than otherwise would have been necessary.

Chick Griffen, the red-headed right-hander, was hit hard and time by the Chicks, who tagged him for three runs and a trio of bases in the fifth inning that were sufficient to win. Yellowhorse pitched airtight ball at a quick pace and was exceptionally well supported. In the sixth Yellowhorse fanned the side, Blades, Bischoff and Coltenberger fanning the ozone. The Travelers had several chances to win the game, but Thwaitt always tightened. The tying run was on third base when Henneveid, but Zoller in the ninth, hit an easy groundout to Thwaitt and was tossed out at first for the final out of the game.

TRAVELERS START WELL.

A base on balls gave the Travelers their first tally and the first run of the game. Harper walked and after a sacrifice by Blades, the bases were loaded. Harper singled to right and Harper connected. In the sixth, Harper hit a sacrifice fly to the outfield and the bases loaded and none gone and they failed to score.

Coltenberger started with an infield single and Thwaitt hit to Wano, who played the ball too late to second in an effort to get Coltenberger out. Thwaitt and Yellowhorse threw the ball to Moore, who dropped it, and the sacks were doctored. Sloan fanned and Griffen hit into a double play forcing Coltenberger to second, Distel to Zoller, and Zoller retiring Griff at first for the last out.

CHICKS WIN IT.

The Chicks won it in the fifth. Coltenberger walked and Thwaitt fanned. Carroll singled to center and Coltenberger walked. Sloan hit a high fly to center, which was caught by Distel, who dropped it, and then shot the ball to second, forcing Carroll. Griffen walked and Coltenberger with a two-bagger to center and Sloan took third. McElarry's single over second scored Sloan. Griffen, High hit a high fly to Harper for the third out.

And the Chicks had actually won a ball game. Several spectators fainted when the shock and had to be revived. They didn't get over the fact that the Tribe had really finished in front.

POLLY MAULS BALL.

Polly McElarry, Chick first baseman, had a big day with the hickory bat Wednesday, clubbing the ball safely on big trips to the plate, getting four singles and two runs in his six visits to the slugging station.

McElarry moved in two runs with his mace in the fifth inning. In the sixth he hit the ball, Polly had a fine day in the field. One of his leading plays occurred in the eighth, when he took Harper's hard drive in and threw Distel out at the plate by a perfect shot.

McElarry and Distel, Traveler second baseman, came near to deciding a game in the fourth. McElarry attempted to steal second and went into the middle of the base a minute later, running into Distel and bowling him over. Distel came up as mad as William J. Bryan at the Democratic convention, but Mack immediately told him to get up. The Travelers rushed toward the mound, but Mack immediately went out and threw the ball to the bench before the two ball players could get together.

The Little Rock bats didn't arrive until the fourth inning, and the Chicks were using the Tribesmen's hickories. Naturally the Chicks' own sticks would not hit against Bill Thwaitt.

Big Bill pitched a beautiful game of ball, only his wildness getting him in holes. However, his mates came to his rescue and pulled him out of several excruciating situations.

In the first and second innings the Chicks peeled off two fast double plays.

In the first Distel hit to High, who threw to McElarry, who dropped the ball, giving Distel life. On the hit and run, Moore hit to Thwaitt, who heaved to Coltenberger, who in turn shot the ball to McElarry.

In the second, with one out, Brotemmel walked. Wano fanned, and on the last strike, Tony tried to steal second and was thrown out by Bischoff to Coltenberger by a perfect shot.

The Chicks had the bags loaded with none out, and couldn't score in the third. With the sacks crowded, and after Sloan had fanned for the first out, Griffin came up and hit the ball on the fly and it traveled over Carroll's head and landed in the stands.

Dutch Henneveid, Traveler right-hander, went up to bat with Zoller in the ninth, and he fouled off a couple and then hit a weak grounder to Thwaitt for the last out. Tony Brotemmel was on third with the tieoff count, but the Dutchman couldn't deliver.

The Travelers made their hits count, getting only three and losing two tallies. The Chicks got three runs out of eight hits.

Roy Harper's three-bagger in the sixth was one of the hardest hit balls ever seen at Russell Field. He hit the ball solidly, and it traveled over Carroll's head and landed in the stands.

One complete box was occupied by Little Rock rooters, and they yelled themselves hoarse for a victory, having come all the way from Little Rock to enjoy a Traveler victory on foreign soil. However, they were disappointed and were the recipients of considerable razzing from local fans in adjoining boxes.

BAKE RUTH UNHURT IN AUTOMOBILE CRASH

NEW YORK, July 8.—"Babe" Ruth, champion home run hitter of the New York American league baseball club, was not injured in the accident in which his automobile was wrecked near Wawa, Pa., early yesterday. Miller Huggins, manager of the club, announced last night that Ruth returned to New York last night and will play in the game here today against Detroit. Ruth, Mrs. Ruth and three other ball players were in the car on their way from New York to Wawa, where the team played Tuesday. The accident, according to information received by the club officials here, resulted when Ruth, who was driving, attempted to pass another car. His machine was overturned and wrecked.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., July 8.—Chattanooga and Nashville divided a double-header here yesterday, the locals winning the first 2 to 1 and losing the second 3 to 1. Rain stopped the first game, but after an hour's intermission the second was started.

WRECKING CREW STARTS HITTING TRIBE SHOULD CLIMB BACK UP ON TOP

PUG GRIFFIN, POLLY M'ARRY AND TOD SLOAN.

Its base-hits that win ball games, and the trio has started hitting the ball like they were expected to when they were signed. Griffin and McElarry were prominent factors in Wednesday's Chick victory over the Little Rock Travelers, driving in the three runs necessary to win. Sloan didn't get any hits Wednesday, but he is picking up in his batting, and should be able to give opposing pitchers a real trouble.

SMITH-SEATON CASE BOBS UP WITH BRAND NEW ANGLE

Allen, of Little Rock, Threatens Explosion and Says He Has a Coup He Will Spring Shortly.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 8.—While the big deal of the past week by which Little Rock signed outfielder Bing Miller and catcher Tony Brotemmel to Washington at the end of the season and received a pitcher and an outfielder in exchange, in the real news, the Seaton-Smith controversy will not down and there are vague hints of new and startling developments that will cause an explosion.

President Allen is as strong in his defense of these players as ever. He has received letters citing a number of incidents which caused the transfer of Jackie Smith with other clubs in the Southern league, and according to this information these players were brought into the league with their employers in possession of all the facts. President Allen has not indicated whether or not he will ask for an investigation and demand the dismissal of these players from the Southern league.

Both Seaton and Smith have been pitching for semiprofessional teams in Arkansas and Oklahoma and are being better paid than if they were in the Southern league. The two players, it is stated, are doing everything possible to get a hearing before the courts of the state. An effort has been made to secure a statement from the San Francisco club which barred them from the Pacific Coast league. Seaton and Smith have both expressed a willingness to sign an agreement not to compete against the San Francisco club if it will make formal charges against them and give them an opportunity to defend themselves. Seaton and Smith are positive that they can prove their innocence of any charges the San Francisco club might bring.

A local attorney who has been looking after the Seaton-Smith interest declares that when appealed to for charges, in order to help the Southern league, he will file a motion to dismiss the San Francisco club's information that there was a place in the Southern league and that the Pacific Coast league officials were in no way interested in the Dixie organization.

Baugh, of Birmingham, lost to Fred Watkins, of Chattanooga, in another hard-fought match, a heavy rain came while the two were playing the thirteenth hole with Baugh two up, disconcerting the veteran. The Fight of the Century By Bob Pique

Bing Miller, Little Rock outfielder, premier hitter of the Southern league, would have a batting average about the size of his beveled eyes if he had to swing at Memphis pitching at Russellwood park every day during the season. Bing, although nearly always hitting the ball hard while in Memphis, finds it a difficult matter to get them to go. He usually hits them at some Tribesmen who is parked in the right place.

UMPS VS. PLAYERS: All One Round Goes

Such history of battles between umpires and players is available that shows that players have had the better of the scraps. However, all such red-hot affairs have been of such short duration that the outcome has not been at all conclusive. They've been bare knuckle fights, except with the occasional use of a mask, and the list is as follows: showing the umpires, winners and rounds.

THE SCORER HELPS HIM.

Over in Little Rock the official scorer, Mack McGraw, is a fan of the players, and when there is any doubt he always gives the batsman the margin. McGraw is a fan of the players, and when there is any doubt he always gives the batsman the margin. McGraw is a fan of the players, and when there is any doubt he always gives the batsman the margin.

TRAVELERS FORMIDABLE.

There's no getting around the fact that the Little Rock Travelers are formidable bidders for this year's pennant in the Southern league, and with the exception of another pitiful show they are ready to fight it out with all comers for the rag.

They are a hard-hitting outfit, their fielding is brilliant and they are always assured of fair pitching. Bill Thwaitt showed the wise ones that he ranks well among the best pitchers in the league when he stopped the Travelers Wednesday and let them down with a shutout.

Bill has only requested that Manager McCloskey let him go the route when he has a lead, and he has received his part. He is capable of taking care of himself.

PRIESTE IN THE CLEAR.

Monte Prieste, ex-Chick right-handed pitcher, has refused to join the Chattanooga club, which claimed him when waivers were recently asked on the player by the Mobile club.

John D. Logan, president of the Mobile club, gave Monte his word and signed him with the understanding that when the Mobile club got through with Prieste they would give him his out-right release. And then when Prieste had a fight with Manager Coleman and Pitcher Lukonovic, of the Mobile club, in Memphis last Friday, Monte turned around and asked waivers on him, with Chattanooga getting him.

Two spectators were escorted from the park in the eighth inning by policemen, when Packer, after engaging in an argument with Dilhoefer, and started to climb into the grand stand.

SMITH-SEATON CASE.

The Smith-Seaton case is not dead yet. According to a dispatch from Little Rock, R. C. Allen, president of the Travelers, promises to explode a bomb in the Southern shortly which will result in several athletes now in the clutches of the Dixie organization getting the can.

As for the remaining seven club owners in the Southern league are concerned, the Smith-Seaton case is far from dead, and the result of the case will result only in the same steam roller tactics that were employed at the recent trial. The case is held here to consider the case, when Allen stood alone in his efforts to sign the two others for the good of the league and the game, it is better that the matter rest quiet now, for it will only be inviting trouble if Allen persists in exploding his alleged bomb in the ranks of the Southern.
